

This Client Clearing End-User Notice (this "Notice"), in respect of ForexClear Client Clearing Business, is provided for information only and is neither a full description of the ForexClear Client Clearing Services (collectively, the "Service") nor a recommendation to make use of them. Accordingly, you may not rely upon the contents of this Notice and should make your own decisions in relation to the Service based upon independent advice obtained from such advisers as you consider necessary. This Notice does not apply to client clearing services which an FCM Clearing Member provides to an FCM Client.

Definitions

All terms which begin with a capital letter, but which are not defined, in this Notice shall have the meaning given to them in the "General Regulations" of LCH Limited ("LCH") published by LCH from time to time and located at www.lch.com (or such alternative website as determined by LCH).

Description of the Service

A ForexClear Clearing Member ("FXCM") who engages in ForexClear Client Clearing Business provides the Service to one or more of its client(s) (each, a "Client").

The Service operates on the basis that LCH enters into one or more ForexClear Contracts with the FXCM on a principal to principal basis, and such FXCM enters into one or more matching transactions with any relevant Client on the same economic terms as the ForexClear Contracts.

LCH records such ForexClear Contracts, and any collateral provided in respect of such ForexClear Contracts, to the relevant client account which the FXCM has opened with LCH in respect of its Client(s) (each such account, a "ForexClear Client Account").

There are two types of ForexClear Client Account:

1. Individual Segregated Account ("ISA") – This is an account which an FXCM opens in respect of a single Client. The FXCM will provide collateral to LCH in respect of the ForexClear Contracts the FXCM enters into in respect of such Client. LCH will record such ForexClear Contracts and collateral to the account.
2. Omnibus Segregated Account ("OSA") – This is an account which an FXCM opens in respect of multiple Clients. The FXCM will provide collateral to LCH in respect of the ForexClear Contracts the FXCM enters into in respect of any such Client. LCH will record such ForexClear Contracts and collateral to the account.

The account types each have different costs and levels of protection. For example, the choice of an OSA may make it more difficult for ForexClear Contracts and associated collateral to port from a Defaulting FXCM to a Backup Clearing Member. The decision as to which account is appropriate for a Client will, therefore, reflect its risk appetite.

Client Money and Client Assets Rules

LCH, a recognised central counterparty, is authorised under Regulation (EU) No. 648/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 4 July 2012 on OTC derivatives, central counterparties and trade repositories and is supervised by the Bank of England within the UK regulatory framework.

LCH is not subject to the Financial Conduct Authority's client assets and client money rules (the "CASS Rules"). As a result, ForexClear Client Accounts do not benefit from the client money or client asset protections afforded by the CASS Rules. Please contact your FXCM for further details.

Porting and Close-Out

If a FXCM of a Client becomes a Defaulter, then either:

1. Port – LCH will port the ForexClear Contracts and associated collateral recorded to the ForexClear Client Account, in respect of such Client, to a substitute FXCM in accordance with, and subject to, the Default Rules ("Porting"); or
2. Close-out – if Porting is unsuccessful, LCH will close-out such ForexClear Contracts and transfer any resulting net collateral balance to the Client (or to the Defaulting FXCM for the account of the Client) in accordance with, and subject to, the Default Rules ("Close-out").

A Client may not, at any time prior to the Default of its FXCM, instruct LCH as to the treatment of ForexClear Client Account(s) that such FXCM has opened in respect of the Client, except to notify LCH of any substitute FXCM who is prepared to act as a Backup Clearing Member for the Client following such Default.

However, LCH will accept instructions from such Client following the Default of its FXCM provided such instructions are in a form acceptable to LCH and they accord with, and are permitted under, the rules, agreements, deeds and other documentation of LCH.

Where the FXCM of a Client is incorporated in a particular jurisdiction specified by LCH, the FXCM must enter into a Security Deed under which it charges its right, title and interest in and to any relevant Account Balances and Client Clearing Entitlements in favour of such Client. The aim of the Security Deed (where required) is to maximise the possibility of Porting or Close-out where the FXCM of a Client becomes a Defaulter. In some jurisdictions, the Security Deed may need to be registered or filed as a security arrangement and there may be other legal or regulatory requirements or obligations under the law of such jurisdictions (collectively, the "Requirements"). Accordingly, a Client should be aware that its rights under the Security Deed may depend, inter alia, upon any applicable Requirements being fulfilled and a Client should take advice as to such Requirements.

A Client may be required to enter into appropriate legal commitments or agreements with LCH in order to facilitate Porting or Close-out. Additional information is available at www.lch.com/members-clients/members/fees-ltd/annual-account-structure-fees.
